

: Recommendation for Ahrorbek Khaldaraliev

Dear Admissions Committee,

It is with great pleasure that I write this recommendation for Ahrorbek Khaldaraliev. Ahrorbek has a deep passion for math and calculus and has been one of the few exceptionally gifted students in my career..

One of Ahrorbek's most notable achievements is his outstanding performance on a series of Mathematics Olympiad exams. In fact, he secured the position of second alternate in our province, representing our school in the prestigious "Al-Khvarazmi" competition. This achievement highlights his exceptional skills and dedication to the subject matter. As a senior, Ahrorbek continues to strive for excellence, aiming to secure a solid position as one of the top candidates in our country.

I first met Ahrorbek when he was a sophomore in my SAT class. Despite joining the class only five weeks prior to the exam, he managed to surprise me by passing it with an impressive score of (790/800). He was the top excelling students among his peers, even though he was younger than most of them. As a postgraduate student, he excelled in working collaboratively with others, demonstrating mastery of geometrical techniques and achieving the top score on the National Math Olympiad Exam that year.

As a member of my SAT and ACT Math class, Ahrorbek consistently stood out as an intelligent, conscientious, and motivated individual. He displayed qualities of responsibility, honesty, and strong communication skills when working with his peers. Ahrorbek not only excelled academically but also took the initiative to help clarify concepts for his classmates, actively participating in discussions, and asking thoughtful questions to ensure a comprehensive understanding of the material.

Ahrorbek is a self-motivated and dedicated student with a remarkable level of intelligence. He has consistently demonstrated his ability to grasp challenging concepts, think critically, and handle the academic rigor of a competitive university environment. With his exceptional skills and commitment to learning, I have no doubt that Ahrorbek would be the best student.

In conclusion, I wholeheartedly recommend Ahrorbek Khaldaraliev for admission to your university. His exceptional talent in mathematics, coupled with his remarkable work ethic and passion for learning, make him an ideal candidate. Please feel free to reach out to me if you require any further information or clarification.

Sincerely,

Nataliya Aleksandorovna
